About MsDevotedTiff

A choreographer/dancer and local performing arts promoter turned video blogger, comedic short creator & social media influencer, MsDevotedTiff is a creative in every sense of the word. Launched in January 2018, the MsDevotedTiff social media personality tells stories, brings the funny and highlights positivity. From talking about mental illness and commentary on pop culture to addressing the ups and downs of entrepreneurs, young professionals & women, MsDevotedTiff boldly covers topics across the spectrum with no fear. After viewing her social media, you will laugh, you will think, you will get inspired and you will be informed. Already receiving national and international recognition with video viewers as far as the UK and with one of her comedic shorts being selected to be screened in a comedy film festival, MsDevotedTiff is definitely one to watch and collaborate with.
