Objective

I am a visionary director who looks closely to find the truth; both the tangible and intangible through my lens, my perspective. I have worked in both the film and commercial industry in South Korea. My films have been screened at many film festivals as well as the Seoul National Museum. As an emerging director, my films have been hotly debated by the critics. I want nothing more than to expand the idea of what a film can be. Films with an unexpected point of view are at the center of the work that I wish to pursue and keep pursuing as I grow as an artist.
