SUMMARY:

This is what you wanted! Gwilliam is back and offers some tips for getting special treats this Halloween.

PRODUCTION NOTES:

"Gwilliam's Tips" is a quasi sequel to Brian Lonano's infamous and award winning 2015 short film "Gwilliam." In the original film, an ex-con has a bizarre sexual encounter with the titular back alley goblin, leaving audiences shocked, disgusted and laughing hysterically.

The new short was commissioned by The Eyeslicer, a variety TV series created by Dan Schoenbrun & Vanessa McDonnell, to be part of their 2018 Halloween Special Theatrical Tour.

In "Gwilliam's Tips", Brian wanted to avoid the tropes of sequels and decided to veer into a more absurd direction by exploring Gwilliam's bachelor homelife and breaking the fourth wall to offer tips for trick or treating.
