About Me!

I can't say I knew I wanted to be a filmmaker when I was little, but I did know that; every story I wrote or read, I always saw play out in my head. I'm a traveling Director, Cinematographer, & Gaffer with 11 years of experience in every other film department you can think of. I make an effort to get my shots in the can under seven takes, by planning every detail before calling action. Natural creative, storyteller, team leader, communicator, & problem solver. Looking to move from Florida to California in search of working for a production company creating Narrative, commercials, fashion films or content media. Current job position is Director, Producer, & Writer at Tartarus Creative Brain Lab since 2014.
