Writer Bio:

Nimish is a screenwriter and a published author whose first feature length script – ‘Meiktila’ was shortlisted in Top 20 of Cinestaan’s national screenwriting contest in India.

Since the writing bug bit him in 2012, he has managed to publish 2 fiction novels and develop 6 scripts encompassing feature length as well as episodic series.

An ex-Gentleman Cadet at the Indian Military Academy, Nimish is an engineer and an MBA by qualification. With over 10 years of experience in Sales, Client relationships, and Key accounts management across various industries like Media, Digital advertising, Telecom, Experiential learning and Logistics; amongst his inner circle he is known as the Jack of all trades.

A millennial born in Goa but brought up in Mumbai and with no connections in the film industry - Nimish is your quintessential outsider with big dreams to write meaningful and successful cinema.

Currently, he is happily married (who isn’t, right?) and settled in Auckland where he lives with his beautiful wife.
