- Film: It is hard to be a WOMAN
23:50 min | Social Awareness | Bengali | 2017

Trailer Link: <https://youtu.be/gUfIT17kDyA>

Film Link: <https://youtu.be/RggPa5WxSu0>

About the film:

'Woman' is the wonderful creation of God. She plays her role perfectly as Mother, Daughter, Sister, Wife and many more. But often they are not given their due respect and importance. Whether it is family or society, they are always dominated and underestimated. There are so many instances, where woman are subjected to brutal treatment. It has even become unsafe for them to move alone late night or walk alone wearing dresses of their choice. Therefore, it is now time to give due respect to women, which in turn will help the society and country to develop so that no woman should ever think that 'It is hard to be a WOMAN.'

➤ Film: Save Water

14 min | Social Awareness | Bengali | 2019

Film Link: <https://youtu.be/Npl4mh6pm0M>

About the film:

Inspired by true events of 'Water Crisis' in the city of Chennai in Tamil Nadu in 2019. 'Water' is the second name of 'Life'. We cannot live without water. But we are not aware of this. Water is wasted by many ways. In this film it is tried to be shown, how water is wasted and what will be the consequence of wasting water. Tried to conceptualize the treatment of water in day to day life, it's consumption and it's wastage by general public.

We have to start saving water from now. That day is not so far, when the whole World will be without water.

AS ASSISTANT DIRECTOR

- Film: Watchmaker
01:46 hrs | Anti logic | Bengali | 2018

Casting: Ritabhari Chakraborty, Ritobroto Bhattacharya, Aninda Pulak Banerjee and Others.

Trailer Link: <https://youtu.be/BKFoEPhld9g>

About the film:

The film 'Watchmaker' encapsulates a philosophical debate on the three ideological concepts of time- time rolls back, time is fixed, time has no existence(all accepted social constructs of civilization)- which the three characters epitomise and the fourth character, the commentator is trying to pull in and bridge the missing links.

This is a midnight story which has got no apparent connection with science or the concept of time travel. A stranger comes to order a clock to the watchmaker because time stands still in her life. Time stands still in her life – she leaves Delhi at around 12.30pm and reaches Kolkata at 12.30 pm only. The other character is a sculptor who asks the watchmaker for match-stick which is ironical because time has no significance to him. Both of them die in the end. In this struggle depicted the only truth which survives is that time rolls back.

The film rebukes and scorns our cliché attachment with time.
