OBJECTIVE

I tell stories through music. Whether it be comedy, drama, or educational, my compositions serve to expand and develop the audience's world view. Throughout my career, I have honed my craft, evolving from a pianist and a music director to a composer and a producer. Through my unique blend of live and digital orchestrations, I seek to tell stories that leave a lasting impact and am looking for the opportunity to use my innovative, interactive musical skills to bring the melody, texture, and rhythm to your narrative.
