About Me

Yassine Abouhamid, a self-taught filmmaker, possesses an innate passion for capturing the essence of contemporary artistry through his lens. Motivated by a relentless curiosity and a deep love for visual storytelling, for him, filmmaking goes beyond mere video accumulation; it is about immersing himself in the emotions that each scene evokes. He is intrigued by the power of individuals to communicate profound sentiments through their presence. When Yassine films, he synchronizes his energy with theirs, getting lost in the flow of the moment. With a keen eye for detail and a deep appreciation for artistic expression, Yassine Abouhamid brings the beauty and emotional depth of contemporary visuals to life through his heartfelt films. His work serves as a testament to his dedication and his ability to capture the inherent emotions that the art form conveys.
