I'm Mohsen, a Cinematographer, Photographer, and Documentary Filmmaker. I feel incredibly lucky to be able to turn my passion into my profession.

Photography and Cinema are my great passions and studying light has always fascinated me.

In 1999 I embarked on my journey as a photographer and short film director and cinematographer and since then life has just been a series of wonderful experiences. Today I live in Italy and I am eager to connect with other creatives from all over the world.
