PRODUCED/DIRECTED/DOP/EDITOR —DOCUMENTARY FILM SHOOT ON STORM BREWING / HOW THE STORM WAS MADE?— MARCH -APRIL 2018

Producing a documentary on the oldest microbrewing located in Vancouver BC on their unique ways of crafting beer. Required to create intriguing questions to the process of making the many types of beer that include the lager, pale ale, witbier, ale, pilsner, porter, stout brown ale and India pale ale by constantly working with hops of raw oats that alternate into the astonishing flavours of pineapple, blood orange, apple pie, watermelon and many more such as the plague. My job was to showcase the sequence of footage and acquire the valid truth as to the hard determined work it takes to mack the alcohol from his desired urge and passion of starting the business since 1994. James Walter's list of brews always changes. Check his website <https://www.stormbrewing.org/> for what's in stock.
