AN INTRODUCTION:

James is an established, award-winning freelance Director and Writer, working within film, commercials, social and music video.

Originally hailing from a multi-disciplinary background, with many years spent as a senior creative and editor in the TV industry, his approach has broad influences. His decision making is rapid yet trustworthy, his attention to detail is razor sharp, and he strives to create and contribute to healthy, progressive and fair working conditions on set and off of it. He uses meticulous precision in his visuals, and has a passion for character driven stories; striking a fine balance between abstract and realism, comedy and drama.

Below you'll see various accolades he's garnered over the years. His music videos have played on various on-air music channels worldwide, whilst also gaining over 1.6 million views online. Meanwhile, social content he's made has attracted over 17.3 million views and 2.6 million likes on TikTok; so it's clear that his work certainly connects with the public.

Currently in 2025, James is in early pre production on a new comedy short, along with writing a horror comedy feature, a Christmas comedy feature, and a sitcom pilot.
