

SRISHTI SHUKLA

Director/ Animator
/Visual Designer

Hello! I'm Srishti, a filmmaker, animator and visual designer. My ambition is to tell moving visual stories with compelling characters by exploring different media. I intend to make a difference through my design and films oriented towards ecology and equity. I wish to create content that enlightens and entertains people at the same time.

INSTITUTE OF DEVELOPMENT STUDIES

This was a client project I worked on for a non-profit organisation called SOPPECOM based in India. This project was a part of the Toward Brown Gold initiative by Institute of Development Studies. The project was an awareness film about the flaws of the sanitation system in urban India with a focus on highlighting marginalised communities that bear the brunt of it the most.
