

HOWARD PERRY – Film Producer, Writer & Director

Born in London, Howard is an independent film producer, director and writer. He studied Film Making at MetFilm, Ealing Studios, London.

Howard, currently, lives in Kent, and has filmed in Canada, South Africa, New Zealand, The Arctic and Antarctic.

Progressing from Wildlife Photography, Howard moved into video and film, developing a passion for classic story telling, using the medium of film to entertain his audience, inspired by classic film production styles.

Howard has produced short films, music videos and documentaries. His films have been awarded at many International Film Festivals: In 2024 his short drama 'MAIKEN' received two nominations at the Cannes C7 Arts Awards. Howard was awarded Best Upcoming Film Maker at the 2023 Independent Motion Picture Awards in Los Angeles. In 2022 Howard's Short Drama 'Waiting for Nicko' was nominated for Best Short Film and Best Actress in a short film at the Cannes World Film Festival.

Howard has written all his own screenplays and has recently extended his writing into Radio Drama with his BBC Audio Play 'MiLady' and theatre with his current Stage Play 'Codename: ASTREA'.

Moving forwards Howard is currently seeking a Literary Agent for his future writing projects that include: A Norse Mythology feature, a contemporary crime thriller and a new episode of 'MiLady' for radio Broadcast.