PROFILE

Dean Bomar is an upcoming author/screenwriter based in Austin Texas. For the past decade he and his brother have collaborated on dozens of writing projects, creating multiple award winning films in the process. Outside of screen writing, he works on his comic strip Dino Boy and creates original works of short fiction, some of which are adapted into films. He is inspired by filmmakers and authors alike, such as Ernest Hemingway, David Lynch, and Charlie Kaufman. He works to synthesize his upbringing and inspiration into original works of fiction that subvert narrative expectations.
