C.V. for production design, imagineering and amazing cinematic creations.

BA Hons 1st Class in Theater Design
From Central St Martins Art School London

Josh Sinbad Collins is a designer and imagineer responsible for a multitude of cinematic events and cult movies with a colorful rock and roll aesthetic.

For your film or TV projects do you need a cool pad designed, a fantastic dream sequence created, a wild party brought to life, an astounding drag show conjured up, even an unforgettable advertising gimmick? Look no further....

Josh Sinbad's events and movies are designed to transport you into a lush fantasy complete with an amazing attention to detail.

Watching one of his movies is more like taking part in a crazy party, participating in revelry with some extreme characters, that might bring a blush to your cheek in the light of the next day!

Similarly his live events benefit from sound effects, animatronics, gorgeous graphics, unbridled entertainment and sumptuously themed drinks, transporting you to an evening where you are the star of your own movie.

Josh is an extremely hard working and passionate creator, often working hand in hand with his wife costume designer Barbara Blaze, he is the man you need who can help bring your vision to life and take it to another level of glitz, glamour and debauchery.

Visually the film is fantastic
