CHARANPREET SINGH

Raised in Dehradun and currently based in Mumbai, I bring 16+ years of experience in the film industry, building a diverse career as both an actor and a filmmaker. I wrote, directed, produced, and released my debut feature film Unfinished Story, followed by my second film Draped in Silence, demonstrating my full-cycle filmmaking expertise. From writing and pre-production to music supervision, post-production, and theatrical release, I have hands-on experience across all stages of filmmaking. As the writer-director of Unfinished Story, I independently managed every creative and technical aspect of the project. I have also conducted pre-film workshops—including dialect, dialogue, and script interpretation—for esteemed performers, and I host the CHARANOLOGY podcast.
