Professional Profile:

Bradley Gamborski is a multidisciplinary artist, writer, actor, and recording musician from St. Albert, Alberta, working across theatre, film, television, and music. Educated in Calgary, he holds an Honours Diploma in Film & Video Production from the Southern Alberta Institute of Technology (SAIT) and a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Drama from the University of Calgary. His artistic practice is rooted in story-first creation, emphasizing character, emotional truth, and accessible but fearless storytelling. Bradley began performing at an early age in junior musicals, cabaret productions, and school theatre, later expanding into filmmaking after discovering the power of visual storytelling in his teens. His early work challenged the limitations he observed in student film culture, prioritizing strong scripts and performance-driven narratives. This philosophy has continued to shape his work across mediums. As a theatre artist, Bradley has appeared in and developed productions with Concordia University of Edmonton, Edmonton Regional One-Acts, and Visionary College. He was nominated for a featured performance at the Edmonton Cappie Awards while in high school and continues to create original stage work, including his play In The Between, which premiered at the Edmonton Regional One-Acts. In music, Bradley is an emerging pop artist with releases on Apple Music, Spotify, and other major platforms. His albums Brad Vibes and MIDNIGHT MILKSHAKE have collectively earned over 140,000 streams, with the single "New Friends" surpassing 70,000 streams. In 2025, he earned his first music award as part of Conservation Songs, a children's EP created through The Wilder Institute at the Calgary Zoo, which won Children's Recording of the Year at the YYC Music Awards. Bradley is the co-founder of House of Gamborski & Meyer, an independent production company dedicated to theatre, film, music, and multimedia projects. His work is deeply informed by his experiences as a queer artist and his commitment to authentic representation, free thinking, & creative independence.
