REVIEW - ChrisCrespo.com - FFF 2015 Movie Review: 'Wildlike' - April 19, 2015

“Wildlike” is a very well made movie, and it will be very interesting to see what kind of impact it may have when it is finally released in theaters this fall and then eventually gets to VOD and streaming platforms and home video.”

REVIEW - MoTiv - motifri.com - WILDLIKE: “DON’T RUN, GOT IT.” by Michael Bilow

“This is a strong film where many things, as in life, do not have neat solutions.”

REVIEW - THE MOVIE GUYS - Highlights from The 15th Annual Phoenix Film Festival –
Part 1 APRIL 08, 2015 by Ray Schillaci

"The big winner of the festival was Frank Hall Green's "Wildlike". Winner of Best Acting Ensemble, Best Screenplay and Best Picture which pulled out all the stops in its breathtaking Alaskan beauty and subtle emotional impact. Ella"

REVIEW - Orlando Weekly - "Picks and Previews from this years Florida Film Festival"

"Any flaws in this, writer-producer-director Frank Hall Green's debut feature, are wiped away by the intermittent moments of loveliness Wildlike strings together."

REVIEW - Bad Entertainment MSPIFF 2015 Short Takes, Part 1 by Eric Brindle April 15, 2015
"...between the quality of Greenwood and Purnell's performances and the majesty of cinematographer Hillary Spera's images of Alaska, Wildlike is definitely worth seeing."

<http://www.bad-entertainment.net/2015/04/mspiff-2015-short-takes-part-1/>

REVIEW - 3 Story Magazine "Wildlike" is a gorgeous film that touches our heart and soul. Arizona Intl Film Festival "Must See Films" - April 9, 2015 Herb Stratford

"Set in the gorgeous Denali National Park in Alaska, it's the perfect escape from the climbing temperatures outside, and portrays a touching believable relationship that has not been seen on screen in ages."

<http://3storymagazine.com/arizona-international-film-festival/>

REVIEW - The Movie Guys - Highlights from The 15th Annual Phoenix Film Festival – Part 1 - April 8, 2015 by Ray Schillaci

"Wildlike" is a gorgeous film that touches our heart and soul."

REVIEW Girl Vs Planet - Phoenix Film Festival Sheryl at girlvsplanet.com

"WildLike tells the story of two hurt souls venturing across an amazing backdrop of beautiful scenery who learn what it's like to trust again and what can come of that. It's a story we could all stand to hear, and the filmmakers did it beautifully in WildLike. We find two characters in Bart and Mackenzie that we can sympathize with, and the telling of their story made for a very scenic and moving film."

<http://girlvsplanet.com/movie-review-wildlike/>

REVIEW - Atlanta Film Festival "Must See" - Khylen Steward

"I will say that if and when you head out to the Atlanta Film Festival, you should put Wildlike on your must-see list. As far as dialogue, story and visuals are concerned, the film excels."

REVIEW The Plain Dealer - Cleveland Film Festival: 'WildLike' gorgeous, moving film follows a troubled teen into the Alaskan wilderness - March 2015 Andrea Simakis

"Breathtaking painterly landscapes by cinematographer Hillary Spera fill "WildLike," a film by writer/director Frank Hall Green."

http://www.cleveland.com/movies/index.ssf/2015/03/wildlike_gorgeous_moving_film.html

REVIEW The Examiner 5 out of 5 Stars Woodstock Film Festival - October 2014 - Jacqueline Guirgi

"Wildlike is quietly Profound"

"Wildlike explores an emotional and physical terrain that will steal you away"

REVIEW Wildlike "Demons and Deliverance" Anchorage Press - Teeka A. Ballas

"Wildlike is a movie about survival on a very core level with a masterful delivery of solid, well-researched characters. In a display of impressive prowess by screenwriter Frank Hall Green, his directorial debut, Wildlike, grapples demons and deliverance against the backdrop of Alaska's immense wilderness with great agility."

<http://anchoragepress.com/film/1083/demons-and-deliverance>

Anchorage Press Companion Article: Wildlike "Contemplating Content" -December 2014 Teeka A. Ballas

"By embracing a topic made invisible, yet indelible by its effects, Wildlike stirs an emotional wanderlust without sugar coating the hardships and miles along the way."

Notable Mention in The Hollywood Reporter Article on Woodstock Film Festival - Mitch Myers:

"Wildlike starring Bruce Greenwood and directed by Frank Hall Green is a beautiful and dramatic film that shrewdly deals with sexual abuse while simultaneously reveling in the expansive and breathtaking backdrop of the Alaskan frontier."

http://www.hollywoodreporter.com/news/natalie-portman-jennifer-connelly-honor-741987?mobile_redirect=false

REVIEW RVA News - Richmond Film Festival - March 2014 by Susan Howson

"An unbelievable journey that's believable"

"We've seen the whole thing, and wooooo boy, is it worth watching!"

REVIEW The Hollywood Reporter Review November 2014 - by Justin Lowe

"A restrained perspective on some potentially volatile subject matter and a couple of nuanced performances could help the film gain traction with sympathetic audiences and outdoor enthusiasts alike."

<http://www.hollywoodreporter.com/review/wildlike-napa-valley-review-749997>

REVIEW The Moveable Fest - Stephen Saito

"(Frank Hall Green) show(s) a restraint and a confidence that would seem to derive from knowing he's got all the right pieces to put together something special and letting a compelling drama emerge naturally from them."

http://moveablefest.com/moveable_fest/2014/10/wildlike-review.html

REVIEW Alaska Dispatch News, Highlights of the Anchorage Film Festival - Egan Millard

"Director Frank Hall Green rounds out all the characters in the film -- Alaska among them -- with nuance and restraint."

<http://www.adn.com/article/20141205/highlights-anchorage-international-film-festival>

REVIEW American Literary Magazine - DC Independent Film Festival by Brandon Latham

"A genre-defying film with an unmistakable indie spirit, Frank Hall Green's directorial debut, Wildlike, is a wonderful viewing experience that is both breathtaking to look at and refreshingly optimistic. Much like one of its central characters, the film seeks to quietly meditate on grief and explores whether it is right to accept tragedy and move on or defiantly hold on tight."

REVIEW - Cinema365 - Florida Film Festival - April 11, 2015 by Carlos deVillalvilla
