BUÔN

com Welket Bungué e Silvana Pinto

"We are the people, we want the return of the days of yesterday. the days of birth. the days of light. today everything is black, and the spilled guts of the children lost in combat no longer burns the faces of their pale, anguished mothers. The land rises to man and the sea hid in the deep. the animals toil, women fight, and men cry. limp arms cannot react, exhausted. work is no longer taught, theft is a business. It rains during harvest time and dries up during the planting season. the world fell to shit, the good have been enslaved. All that's left is to pray, in silence."
