'Bad Jesus' is the latest short film from award winning filmmaker, Anthony 'Ash' Brennan.

In a departure from Brennan's political documentaries, 'Bad Jesus' takes a gritty and unflinching look at society's darkest issues - mental illness, domestic violence and substance abuse.

Using a unique Point Of View technique, Brennan takes viewers into the disturbed mind of 'Pricey', an addict spiralling towards ultimate destruction who has delusions that he is the world's next divine saviour.

At times uncomfortable to watch, 'Bad Jesus' is based on true events, making its subject matter all the more confronting.

While the doomed 'Pricey' has lost all grip on reality, 'Bad Jesus' is as real as it gets.
