

Small synopsis:

Five regular cinema goers racing against time to save the only theatre in the Village

Long synopsis:

Set in the back drop of the Kerala, South India a small theatre named “Kerala Paradiso” struggles to exist. Naveen works in this theatre owned by his uncle. His world is all about watching movies and helping his Uncle in the theatre. His world comes crashing down when he gets to know that the theatre is being locked down as it was mortgaged by his Uncle. Racing against time he and the 5 regular movie goers try to save the theater through crowd funding and donations.