Anecdotes:

Good morning!!! When we wake up in the morning ,the first word that we love to touch our ears is “good morning” from our own beloved kids. The trendsetter of this word are high profile people who has made it a trend in their day to day life. Do we really know what does this word mean ? or we just speak coz it looks fashionable. Did you ever try to acknowledged about those starved kids who spend their night at street lanes and how they gonna celebrate their good morning . Perhaps many kids fail to see sunrise..... Early morning when we way towards our offices we find small kids playing circus, imagine their good morning!!!! Imagine good morning of those impoverished and penniless people whom we notice asking beggary at the same lane in the morning....just think? Whose morning is as dark as night ...how their good morning would be. Perhaps we don't want to know.....A video spreading humanity gets like on Facebook and we think that's enough....

Early morning, sitting on chair we share goodmorning with our beloved kids while sipping tea and reading newspaper , but did we realise the same newspaper contains news about flood and its victims which we just had a glimpse and let it go.....how about their goodmorning? Who are extorted to spend their night and day in water??

Had we really forgotten about the blessings and happiness we gain during the saintly act and feeding the poor and needy ones.....and blessings gained while providing blanket to someone in need in this cold and freeze weather???. Do we know the happiness and blessings behind Celebrating our kids birthday in an orphanage and inviting those kids to celebrate birthday togetherdo we care how much blessings we get when we get penniless kids admitted into school??? NO!!!perhaps we are busy in following the trends of “good morning”

You pray to god with folded hands thinking that he gonna listen to youand what you really do when someone else does the same in front of you thinking you as an god.....you either ignore or ask him to go away saying "its his daily business".....just imagine if god has the same plan for you

Someone truly said....your running away from the world....how you gonna deserve godwhen you din't honour the world and people created by him...why will he?

Open your eyes and see how many lives have been waiting to hear the word "good morning" which can really enlighten their lifejust see how many lives are still facing dark despite of several mornings...

Perhaps then you gonna realize what do you mean by saying good morning to someone

Now I m not going to askyou ask yourself how did you wish good morning to someone???

That is the reason of making "Good Morning"
