PRESS KIT

“Pussy talks. It made me speechless . . .
The diversity and beauty that shines through in your work by simply showing it “as it is” or “as we are”
is spellbinding.

It has the power to bring a greater level of authenticity to my life.

This is one the most powerful and memorable pieces of documentary making I have seen.

Thank you for your courage to bring this to the world.”

THE PUSSY TALKS

What's your connection to the Source you come from?

Introducing THE PUSSY TALKS, a 55 minute documentary of women sharing their most intimate sexual anatomy.

SHORT:

Show me a human being a pulse and watch their eyes dilate when I bring up the topic of sex. Does your heart race? Do you heat up? Or do you slowly exhale?

What makes your Pussy unique and different? You will find answers about yourself while viewing the women in The Pussy Talks. You will see and hear 28 different women share their most cherished and previously confidential details about their pussy.

Some of the differences include:

- Structure of the inner lips
- Hooding type over the clitoris
- Distance between the glans of the clitoris and the opening of the vagina
- Location of the G-Spot - is it near or far?

All women have feelings and thoughts and considerations about their pussy, but we often don't have an opportunity to explore and share what those thoughts are.

The Pussy Talks is documentary making that is completely unscripted and spontaneous.

Imagine a world beyond being distracted or feeling suppressed by sex . . .
Imagine fully experiencing and expressing the pleasure and power of being alive!

THE PUSSY TALKS

What's your connection to the Source you come from?

Introducing THE PUSSY TALKS, a 55 minute documentary of women sharing their most intimate sexual anatomy. Previously only featured in private and intimate circles of women and men.

LONGER:

Sex is a topic humanity is crazy about and yet most of us know so little about our own sexual anatomy. For women in particular, viewing The Pussy Talks is an introduction to witnessing and connecting with the most sacred part of themselves and all women. We often carry an enormous amount of shame and guilt towards our bodies and our desires:

- We are embarrassed by our most intimate sexual anatomy
- We think we look ugly “down there” (if we have ever even looked!)
- Or, we realize we don't think about our intimate anatomy much at all

Cosmetic labiaplasty, cutting away some of the inner labia and/or clitoral hooding is the fastest growing cosmetic surgery in the Western world. There is such an urgency for real education for this emergency out there. Education is the key.

The world we live in by default compares, criticizes and reinforces body shame. Standards and ideals including how our most intimate anatomy should look, are communicated by unnatural stereotypes of beauty. We avoid real discussions on sex in our families and communities. And positive thinking? It conquers no new ground.

The only way to be free of the chaos around sex and having the “perfect” image of sexuality is learning to deeply connect to the source you come from. Our natural desires are often exploited or suppressed.

Each woman in this documentary says exactly what she wants to say about her Pussy.

It is not an interview. Then when each woman was complete she responded to the question “What does your Pussy have to say?”

You do not see the woman's face. You see her Pussy closeup. Some women show different aspects of their clitoris such as the location, the hooding, how they like it to be touched, how they touch it. Some women speak about their inner labia and how they like to be approached. Some women share how their Pussy is the source of power and so much more . . .

The age range of the women is 28 to 70 years of age. This is real education by real women that has never been seen before.

About the Pussy Talks Creator: Mukkee Okan

Founder & Director of The Pussy Talks • Mukkee Okan is the creator of The Pussy Talks™ and is the embodiment of what life looks like when humanity is free from sexual shame.

Known to her closest friends and mentors and Muktananda (meaning: the bliss of spiritual freedom), Mukkee was initiated into a traditional tantric yogic lineage in 1984. She is a wise woman, teacher, and a guide in the arena of sexuality and has been for over 30 years.

Mukkee is also a certified Surrogate Partner in the western medical model of sexual healing and a Quodoushka Spiritual Sexuality teacher. She is known as Your Orgasm's Best Friend.

Since 1992 Mukkee has led educational programs around the world and guided thousands of couples and individuals in experiencing richer, more pleasurable lives in Australia, New Zealand, the United States, Canada, the United Kingdom, and Europe.

Mukkee has worked with people from all walks of life - men, women, rabbis, executives, professional athletes, parents, retirees, and people with disabilities.

She can be seen as the sexuality educator in The Vagina Diaries, a documentary made for the Australian Broadcasting Commission investigating why so many women, especially young women, undergo cosmetic labiaplasty in Australia.*

Labiaplasty is the fastest growing cosmetic surgery in western countries and involves cutting away "excess tissue" of the inner lips of the vulva for aesthetic reasons.*

She is a certified as – a Surrogate Partner since 1995 in the western medical model of sexual healing; a Rites of Passage facilitator; and Quodoushka Spiritual Sexuality teacher. Mukkee has facilitated educational programs, spiritual sexuality retreats and individual coaching internationally. An artist and a grandmother, she loves to share what works. Mukkee is dedicated to the sexual well-being of humanity as a natural expression of the Divine Design embodying Oneness – transforming the discourse on Sex and what is possible being at peace with the power of Sex.

Mukee Okan says —

“When a woman has educated and developed herself it makes a difference in the development of her whole community. Imagine a library. If you went to check out a book out on geography, there would be a whole section on that topic of education. There should be a whole section on genital anatomy and sexuality in your personal library - I call it real education!

I often think of two young women who were at a screening.. What they loved was how the women in The Pussy Talks were talking about their pussies. It was real and tangible, rather than airy fairy pseudo spiritual. Everything is indeed sacred, and what they experienced was a real conversation.

My hope is that The Pussy Talks makes this type of education mainstream and available so it makes a real difference for every woman, her daughters and sons and all men too.

The Pussy Talks is about enhancing the sexual well being of humanity.

Whatever arises for you from the creation and viewing of The Pussy Talks, the purpose is always to enhance your sexual well being. Why is this important? So that you can get on with what you came here on Earth to do.

Through letting go of all the “stuff” you have against yourself, you free your own life force to contribute what only you can give as a unique expression.

That's why I call The Pussy Talks — The Production of Peace on Earth.”

2017 update: Right now a non-profit organization for this essential education is in the works. Peace on Earth Creations 501 (c) 3 is in process. The Pussy Talks is ongoing multi-media education. The Cock Tales currently in production is also part of my work. This is just the beginning.

THE PUSSY TALKS VIEWERS respond to the question –

What Are You Taking Home With You after viewing The Pussy Talks?

“After viewing the Pussy Talks documentary I am extremely anxious to get home and have a talk with my pussy. Having been sexually assaulted and shamed for my hyper-sexuality, I believe this documentary is exactly what I needed to start healing.”

“I was really moved by the reverence of the men in the room. They were almost speaking in hushed tones about women and they were so respectful and honoring of what they were seeing and it was like they felt really privileged to be allowed into that space. That was really healing.”

“More appreciation for my pussy and the love and healing of my body. Beauty to see so much love.”

“If more women realized the pleasure and power from their own pussy, the whole world would be a more loving and peaceful place.”

“It challenged me to talk with my daughters and let them know what’s happening in the world by way of stereotyping women and not to get caught in that.”

“A knowing that no pussy is ever silent.”

“Lots of gratitude that after 25 years of no libido that I was able to re-wire my brain and allow the flow of femininity to re-enter into my world. To be aware and alive!”

THE PUSSYTALKS

“So nice to discover that most of the women are so eager to share their pussy and how they relate to them. It’s almost like the words, the message has been so wanting to come out. Regard me, admire me, explore me, I want to share my pussy, I have so much to give, so much to share. Enter my secret cave and let’s become one. Love me, love my pussy, let’s love!”

“The pictures of the yonis look totally different now. They look more beautiful and like a gate to these women’s souls and liveliness.”

“The diversity of women is astounding, magical! The yoni/pussy is the seat of the heart. A place of power and deep connection to self and all of life.”

“I have learnt that no two pussies are the same. They need to be treated differently and with respect. Thank you for making this documentary.”

“I promise to take more time getting to know and love my pussy.”

“I am taking home a deep desire to worship, adore, cherish, celebrate, respect and love up the Pussy!
My favorite place. Thank you for all eternity to the ladies and their yonis.”

“Wow I had no idea . . . So much variation. I am taking home a sense of curiosity and excitement to discover more about myself. I feel like my pussy brought me here tonight and a gateway back to Source is opening up for me.”

“I have just had the privilege of being welcomed to gaze at some of the world’s most beautiful and fascinating temple doorways.”

“This film really carries the potential for freedom and peace in the world.”
