

Giant Cookie Films presents...

Working the obituary
desk is not the career
Kelly had in mind,
and she'll do anything...
ANYTHING to get ahead at the paper.

Written by: Guy Olivieri
Directed by: Neil Fennell

Cast:

- Kate Middleton as Kelly
- Ryan Duncan as Ryan
- Timothy John Smith as Tim
- Charleigh E. Parker as Charleigh
- John-Andrew Morrison as John-Andrew
- Guy Olivieri as Tyler
- Patti Goettlicher as Patti

With

- Neil Fennell
- Erik Frandsen
- Kathy Searle

DP: Duane C. Ferguson
Editor: Neil Fennell
Gaffer/Grip: Ethan Jones
Assistant Editor: Justin Liebergen

Script Supervisor: Samantha Northart
Art Direction: Justin Liebergen &
Sydney Mei Ruf-Wong
PA: Sydney Mei Ruf-Wong

Original Score: Michael Harren
Sound Mixer: Edmund Kasubinski
Assistant Sound Mixer: Justin Liebergen

Executive Producers: Neil Fennell &
Guy Olivieri
Producer: Kate Middleton

“Another day, another death.”

Writing obituaries is the least prestigious job at the paper, and Kelly is stuck there. When her boss challenges her to go deeper - to learn more about her subjects - she comes up with a plan to change everything.

Neil Fennell (Director / Editor / Executive Producer) comes from a musical theatre background, where he honed his skills in performance and direction before tackling the world of film. A current resident of Astoria, NY, Neil has directed and edited multiple award-winning short films, pilots, and web series.

A self-taught filmmaker, Neil is the resident video editor for Jack Morton Worldwide NY (experiential marketing) and has created hundreds of video pieces of corporate and creative content over the past 6 years. Neil's work can be found at: www.neil-fennell.com

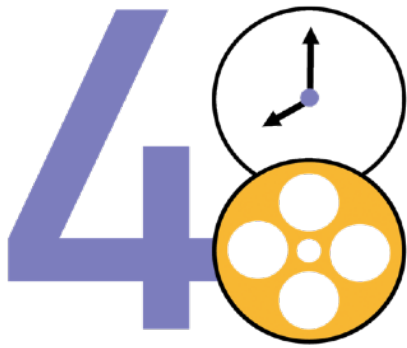

Guy Olivieri (Writer / Executive Producer) is an award winning writer, actor, and producer as well as a founding member of both Giant Cookie Films, and Off Off Hollywood Productions (its parent company). The sitcom pilot he wrote, produced and starred in for OOH, "FreakMe", won Best Television Pilot at the Hoboken Film Festival as well as several other major awards. His short, "I Don't Believe In That" has played on 3 continents. Guy's pilot script, "SUCKERS", a vampire comedy, won Best Short Script at the SoCal Film Festival.

More on Guy at: www.GuyOlivieri.com

Giant Cookie Films is an offshoot of Off Off Hollywood Productions, a multi-award winning film production company out of New York City. Giant Cookie is the two-time winner of the 48 Hour Film Competition in New York City. In 2016 with "Frequency", which went on to play at film festivals across the US, and in 2017 with "Obits."

The 48 Hour Film Project

Obits was created during the 48 Hour Film Project in New York, 2017.

WINNER: BEST FILM, BEST WRITING, BEST DIRECTING, BEST EDITING

WINNER: BEST ACTRESS (Kate Middleton)

WINNER: BEST ACTOR (Ryan Duncan)

Neil and Guy's collaborations have been honored with awards from:

The Hoboken International Film Festival, The NYC Downtown Short Film Festival, The North Carolina Gay and Lesbian Film Festival, The Honolulu Film Awards, Best Shorts, IndieFest, The Mountain Film Festival, The Jersey City Film Festival, The Fargo Film Festival, The South Dakota Film Festival, The Pink Lobster Film Festival, The Iris Prize, qFlix Philadelphia, The Tampa International Gay and Lesbian Film Festival, The DAMN Film Series, Bloomington Pride, qCinema Fort Worth, The Garden Star Film Festival, The Los Angeles Television, Script and Film Festival, The Huntington Beach Film Festival...

Made possible with the support of:

- www.SmartSign.com
- The Peter and Kathleen Olivieri Foundation for the Arts

