THE FILM

A woman finds herself at the center of a CIA investigation after she becomes the only known survivor to encounter a mysterious being. In order to make sense of the tragic events in her life, questions begin to arise as to why she was chosen by the supernatural entity and how was she able to survive.

MATTHEW ROJAS - DIRECTOR

Matthew Rojas allows his visuals and sound to reveal truth and hope to audiences all over. Matthew focuses on creating in-depth characters, whose internal struggles are conveyed through an invoking dark cinematic style. Seeking to create authentic performances and visual metaphors, he challenges viewers to deeply reminisce the topics in his films. He has written and directed multiple award-winning short films including In This Myth of Vengeance, Upon the Mountain, and Streams in the Wasteland.
