

All You Can Eat

by Manuel Perez and Paulina Galindo

Synopsis_

Tommy used to be a tiny innocent chick, but when he realizes that his ultimate goal as a living creature is to become a meal for humans, there is nothing else than to kill or be eaten.

Director Biography_

Manuel Perez and Paulina Galindo are recent animation graduates that reside in Guadalajara, Mexico. This is the first time they compete in festivals with their graduation film "All You Can Eat". They just got married, have an adorable crazy pug, and share their love for animation. They hope to take part in more projects in the future and meet other animators around the world to share ideas with.
