ANTI-SOCIAL CLUB

Danny Germansen
DIRECTOR - WRITER - PRODUCER

Synopsis

"A futuristic tale about human freedom in modern society."

"They enslaved her and took away everything she loved ... Her freedom."

Inspired by the life of and talks with Suzana Lungu

Award-Winning Film Selected for various festivals in 2018-2019

Artist statement

by Danny Germansen

The film is based on the life of and talks with SUZANA LUNGU.

It's a futuristic tale ala GEORGE ORWELL'S 1984.

The idea sprung out from Suzana telling me about her life in Romania. Where she would work in her garden in her bikini taking care of her tomato plants and other plants that she will go to the market to sell. I talked to Suzana about having that kind of freedom where you live in the nature and are your own boss. That you don't have to be a part of the system or society, but be more or less self-sufficient by living of the land and live a life outside the norms of society without all the martialist things people of the world need today.

Suzana made up the name ANTI-SOCIAL CLUB as a joke that she wanted to make a club for herself to be anti-social in.

So one night I was laying in my bed after a couple hours of sleep, not fully awake, but half a sleep, I suddenly had a picture in my mind. It was very clearly. It pictured Suzana in her bikini – Sitting on her knees in a garden working in the soil and the title ANTI-SOCIAL CLUB was written on top of the picture. From there I developed the story about human freedom contra the state/system/society and it stood very clear to me after having seen that picture in my mind how exactly the film should be written and produced.

Biography

Danny Germansen (Born 1976) is a filmmaker and video-artist who was raised in a dysfunctional family in a little town on the west coast of Jutland in Denmark called Ribe.

Playing music most of his teenager years, Danny first started to work with video and film at the age of 21. His main body of work are inspired by a life with disability, depression and mental breakdown.

Danny's early work with films has been used as therapy, a way to work himself out of a low point in his life from his 20's up thru his 30's years of life, where he was suffering from severe depression, mental agony, isolation and loneliness – Caused by his troubled childhood with two spinal surgery operations at the age of 9 and 14 which left Danny paralyzed and in a wheelchair. Plus having a psychopath father who made Danny emotional and mentally unstable.

Those early works that can be seen in the video collection INNER PROJECTIONS FROM A BROKEN MAN is emotions and thoughts from a mental breakdown told thru film/video.

But Danny does also do other topics as political, social-society and philosophical related work. Danny's work has been shown around the world at festivals and various venues.

Biography

Steffen Graumann (b. 1968) is a multi talented creative soul. He's a fast and curious learner who loves to experiment. He's a do it yourself kind of guy.

He started with still photography at age 5. That stuck with him and he has since progressed through various photo techniques to include video works.

Back in 1988 he began freelancing as a sound engineer, working with live concerts, festivals, theatre, studio recordings and CD mastering.

Later in 1996 he started working fulltime as a graphic designer/engineer. In the past 10 years or so, he has worked with webdesign as well.

These experiences (combined with an general understanding of technology) has given him a very broad knowledge and the ability to fix problems on the fly and keep the show going.

It's also a very handy set of knowledge in regards to video production. He can shoot video, record audio, edit, do post production, color grade, make the graphics, video effects and some motion graphics.
