

Rossana B. Mancini

Director

Rossano B. Maniscalchi works extensively, as both a photographer and film maker, within the global fashion industries, particularly in America and Italy.

As a highly acclaimed photographer and film maker (globally ranked in the top 100) Rossano B. Maniscalchi has worked with many high profile fashion brands. His commercial work is limited to specifically chosen high calibre brands. Rossano is currently working with several esteemed companies on promotional films for products that are unique and prominent within the fashion world. His work has always been outstanding, whether in the field of portraiture, art, still life, fashion, culture, beauty and glamour photography, or in advertising.

Rossano has a studio in Florence, the city where he was born, in Italy. He also works in the United States, where he lives for many months of the year. His work takes him to Florida, California, New York and throughout Europe for promotional campaigns. He has engagements for the covers of many American and European magazines.

Rossano has a definitive signature style. He communicates a unique personal message and perspective in his work.

His many years of creativity for well known fashion salons and advertising agencies combined with still life, portraiture, fine art and sculpture, have all influenced and developed his modus operandi. He supersedes standard

Forbidden Body is a surreal film based on the emancipation
of women.

'Every woman holds deep within her soul the sovereignty of supreme assertiveness that will allow her to lift the veil of oppression.

I believe that every woman should feel empowered to express her femininity without the encumbrance of man and his failing to show respect.'

Failing Light

is a promotional film which has been directed, filmed and choreographed by Rossano B. Maniscalchi, it was commissioned by DAMI, one of Italy's finest purveyors of handmade luxury crocodile footwear.

Dami sneakers are sleek and futuristic in style – it was important to reflect the vitality of their striking patina and supreme quality with a theme that set them aside from the norm. The storyline is based on 3 post apocalyptic humanoids who raise from an eternal sleep to the light of the morning sun, streaming through barred windows onto their tribally decorated bodies. As they assume a conscious state, they walk in a zombie like fashion to an open hall where the viewer is introduced to the crocodile sneakers worn by one of the further 3 humanoids that appear.

The shoes instantaneously empower the feet of the humanoids who sprint, leap and dart around in their search for the unknown. They finally discover three dodecahedron frameworks and climb into the central one to form a circle around one of the pairs of sneakers to which they pay homage by raising their hands to the sky, as if to offer their discovery to the gods.

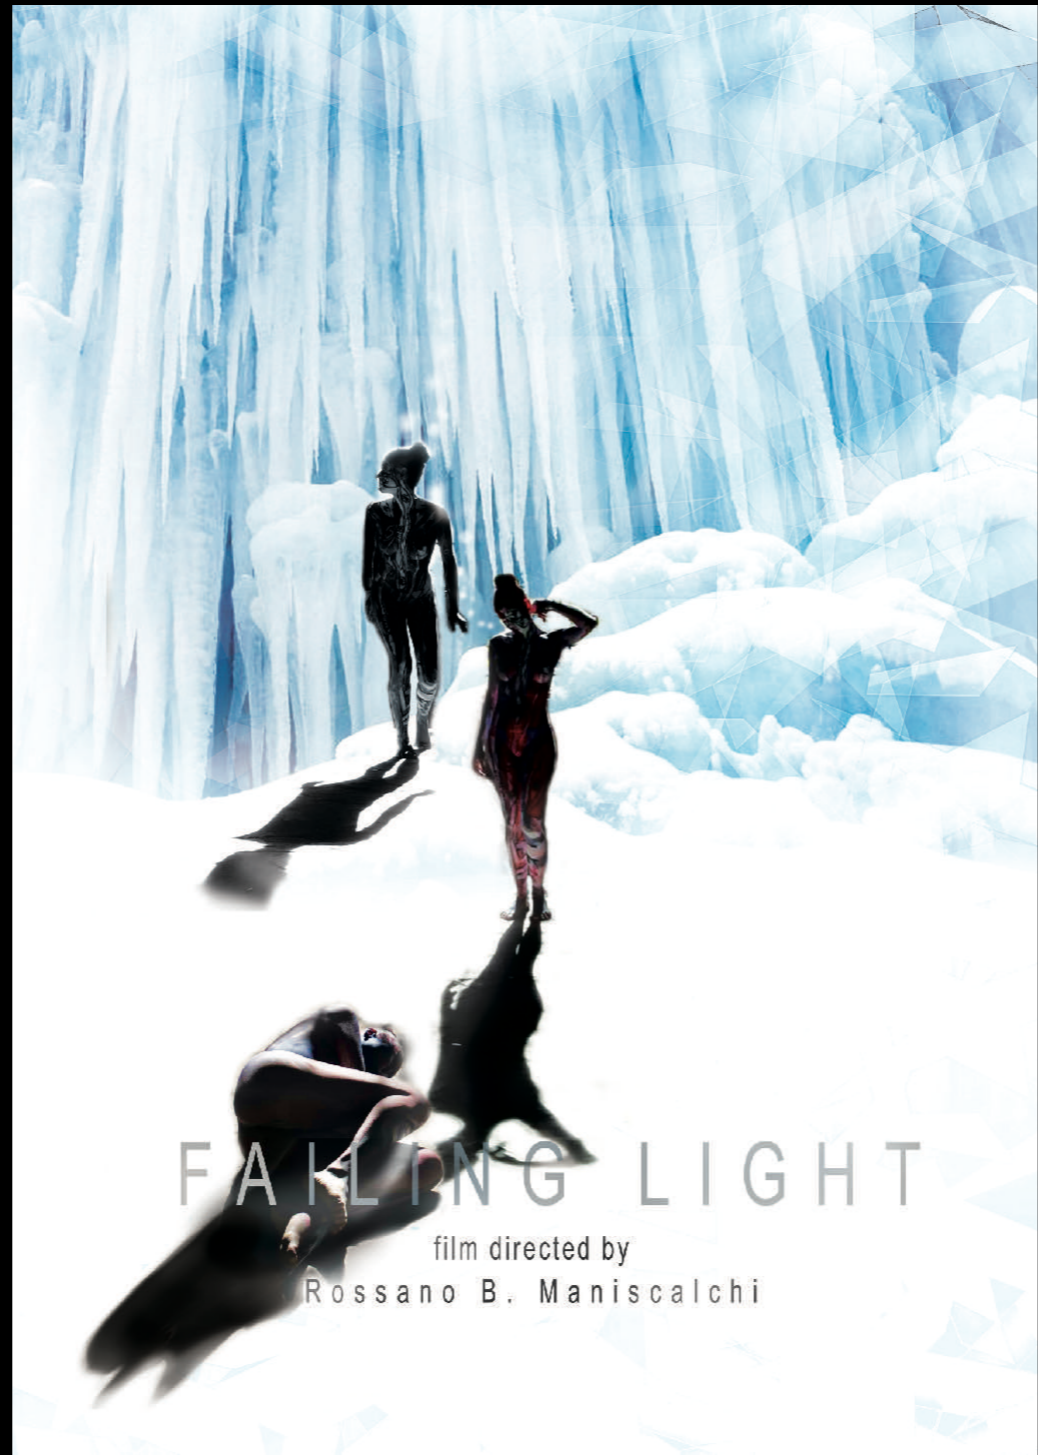

Rossano Maniscalchi has used elements of his lighting and photographic techniques to enhance the film as an artistic study into which the product is incorporated as part of a brief dreamlike story. The setting is a disused warehouse in Monsumanno, Northern Italy. The product footage is limited, yet powerfully executed as the dust flies when the shoes fuel the feet of the humanoids with an electrifying form of energy.

Touch Me

is a film directed, filmed and choreographed by Rossano B. Maniscalchi.

It has been produced for La Fortezza (an Italian Leather Company) to globally promote the simple message 'Innovation is key to the development of an exquisite luxury product in which customer confidence is paramount'.

The storyline of Touch Me introduces a visual flamboyance and emotional intensity in the form of a tryst of amorous entanglement between three characters established in the world of luxury leather.
An enchantingly handsome leather merchant captures the hearts of two stunningly beautiful women, leading to impassioned love, tragic betrayal and an emotive reunion. The viewer is immediately drawn into the complexity of emotions being experienced by both women, their hopes, passions, fears and indignation.
The juxtaposition between elation and sorrow within this short film is eloquently portrayed through a rich anthology of dexterous and exceptionally creative filming techniques. The breathtaking locations are set deep in the heart of Tuscany, an area famed for the highest quality leather production, but also for its fine wines, spectacular countryside and stunning architecture, which are all aesthetically embodied within this marvelous production.

Touch Me

has been rewarded as the Best Supporting Fashion Brand Film at La Jolla International Fashion Film Festival, San Diego, California, in 2018.

It has been a special prize created for the first time ever for this film.

It has been also chosen in other important Film Festivals all around the world with other important nominations.

A short film based on a story in which a woman can change her self esteem thanks to a special and unique bikini.
An amazing story to be followed till the end with its surprising twists.

Rossano B. Maniscalchi is actually working on different projects with different subjects.

His Art, translated in films, photography, books and sculptures, is growing and changing time after time.

He is a visionary and everything he creates comes from his deeper artistic soul.

He's always available to consider new projects when he's not traveling around the world for exhibitions or film festivals.

“Creating is my vital linpha, I could not survive without Art!”
