Everyone has a first day of high school and everyone has a day that changes their life forever; sometimes those days can be one and the same.

SYNOPSIS (106 words):

Skip School is not your normal high school movie. This short follows the lives of four students and one teacher as they try survive their first day of high school. Orlando is balancing his goal to make Varsity Football and his need to protect his little sister, Virginia, starting her Freshmen year. Virginia's best friend Douglas, also a Freshmen, struggles with his plan to come out of the closet and gets no support from his alcoholic mom. Meanwhile, Orlando's girlfriend Sandy, also a senior, just wants her mom to trust her enough to drive the car. But it's dangerous out there; something today's high schoolers know all too well.
