

Emmett Loverde Resume

Emmett Loverde is an experienced director for stage, film, and television. He has directed dozens of stage productions as well as two feature films, numerous short films, music videos, and news/documentary pieces. He has a degree in Theater from UCLA.

He has particularly extensive experience directing children. From 2007 to 2018 he worked with the Virginia Avenue Project in Santa Monica, an after-school program for at-risk youth aged 7 to 18 in which the kids acted in stage plays, wrote stage plays, and created video projects. For VAP he wrote and directed two to three plays per year.

He is also a former Big Brother, a former Youth Mentor at St. Monica's Catholic Church in Santa Monica, and a former teacher for the Los Angeles Unified School District.
