Magro is a busy, successful man accomplishing so much with his life, sometimes he wishes a day would have forty-eight hours instead of twenty-four hours.

Magro first became interested in acting at the age of thirteen when he created his own drama/film class at the school he attended. Soon he was spread his horizons in the art of acting for many years. For a long time Andy Magro had a lot of difficulty in arriving for auditions due to the fact that he lived in Stuttgart, Germany. Meanwhile the places for filming in Germany are Cologne, Berlin, Munich, and Hamburg. Soon at the age of thirteen, Magro joined a good German acting agency, and got his first big break when a filmmaker David Cronenberg gave him a supporting role in a feature film with the catchy title A Dangerous Method.

The movie A Dangerous Method is quite fascinating from a historical perspective. It was nominated in the 2011 Golden Globe Awards. In this production, Andy Magro played the role of a famous person, namely the son of Sigmund Freud, Jean Martin starring Keira Knightley, Viggo Mortensen, and Michael Fassbender. This role gave Magro a huge opportunity not only to express himself as an actor, but to also work with such prominent stars of the screen.

Listening to the EP one can tell that it's not only high-quality music, but it's also very refreshing to hear something new and enticing, which has a different flavor compared to a lot of the mundane pop music playing on the radio today. The songs created by Magro reflect something new and different. It is melodious, clean, and rhythmic. Music like this is aimed at changing the music industry as opposed to simply continuing with the same ideas repeatedly. These tunes are put together to create a very broad international pop sound. Music to become more appealing to the public on the consumer market, the sound has to be more distinctive, because too much of the same sounds will bore the audience and make them move on to another artist.

He crushes all the competition so to speak with his beautiful, pleasant, and soulful vibe. Personally, most of the modern music may be marketable, but it doesn't even come close to the brilliant work done by Magro. The tunes he uses for his songs are so smooth and come together in a marvelous eloquent mix like the mid-tempo ballad "You & Me".

Magro's music is done with such a nice touch, because he is an excellent vocalist, to improve the listening experience of his fans, especially the younger generation who really love him. The music is very genuine as a result of Magro makes his tracks, by avoiding any sort of cryptic and complex lyricism in them, and he touches people's hearts and minds, with how he makes the music as relatable as possible and give it a kind of kindred feel. Both parents, children, and young adults love Magro's songs, as he always knows how to combine lush sounds with adult territory. A perfect example of this is the song "No Turning Back", where Magro goes around effortlessly between melodic singing and rapping verses.

“Per Sempre” is another song which has a most romantic sound to it, and what is interesting about this one, is how it is sung in the Italian language. This song is colorful, enthralling, and full of joy and without a doubt the best love song people can listen to, out of all the other tracks made by Andy Magro. Like the greatest stars in the history of pop music, Magro has his own style with a voice unlike any other one has ever heard, and he has put his soul into his music to reach people in a way that was never thought possible before.

Apart from being a multi-talented artist Magro has a caring heart and he is a true philanthropist. He oversees his charity called the Andy MagroFoundation and he supports the WWF campaign to protect wildlife tigers. This foundation aims to solve problems like climate change, hunger, poverty, and protection for the environment. The world needs more kind people like Magro who are willing to help mankind. What makes this charity different from many of the others in the world, is their approach to the problem of how to fight homelessness and other forms of scarcity. The Andy Magro Foundation doesn't just give people money to keep them poor. They also provide people with the tools, training, support, and resources in order to be successful.
