Private Screening:

White Demise!

Gun Violence & A Lifesaving Bullet

East Aurora, NY: Made in Buffalo: White Demise's private screening will be held at 11 am on Saturday, January 25, 2020, at the iconic historic Aurora Theatre 673 Main St, in the quaint village of East Aurora, NY 14052. This 90-minute micro budget film was produced and cut entirely in Buffalo. The inaugural full-length feature film by up and coming Korean born, now Buffalo Director, Daeil Kim.

The narrative tells of the very dramatic journey of a mother, Samantha Grey played by Kelly MacDougall in search of a "life-saving White bullet" in order to save her dying daughter. Lillian Grey, played by Olivia Storm. A dramatic thriller, filled with drama that embodies the theme of gun violence in America. Yet the audience is left to determine which side of the gun violence argument they stand.

White Demise is a full-length feature film written and filmed with all local talent and shot entirely in the Buffalo area using just one camera, all-natural light, no professional lighting, on super low budget and with an all-amateur cast.

The Private Screening will include a Q&A session, with a chance also for attendees to supply valuable feedback before the motion picture is completed in post-production in preparation for submission to nearly 50 Film Festivals across the country in 2020, including Sundance, Tribeca, South By Southwest and more...

A star-studded red-carpet photo op will give attendees a chance to receive a commemorative photograph with the filmmakers and the cast.
