

LOST THE LEAD

Logline:

A disgraced professional gamer making a living as a conman recruits other minority gamers to take revenge on a racist but popular gaming clan.

Synopsis:

Leon is nearing forty and although he's surviving on royalties as a former e-Sports legend, that doesn't stop him from running cons on unsuspecting young and horny gamers by pretending to be an attractive woman. When Leon embarrasses the wrong racist crowd, he's slowly pulled into a complex rivalry. The only way out is to beat them at their own game and recruit Mia - a black game store manager who's fed up with being mocked for her cosplay; Marcus - a pleasantly plump and loyal supportive security guard; Byron - the charismatic and chiseled Korean GNC clerk; and Tessa - the single mom with anger issues and a ten year old son with aspergers. Because it's 2020 - their world is Astralis; an open-world science fiction action game where players communicate via VR headsets and stream their progress through Twitch, Mixer, or Facebook Live.
