

WORLD PEACE

Style:
Full Length Feature Film

Genre:
Teen Adventure Comedy

Projected MPAA Rating:
PG

Tag Line:
They don't have superpowers to save the planet, just stereotypes!

Logline:
Top students from several countries attending a global summit, realize they must overcome their differences and work together to save the planet from an evil scientist bent on expediting climate change and destroying their native lands forever.

Overview
Oceans Twelve meets Nicholodeon

Country Break Down
Miss Teen Planet (France) Female (17) French
Teenage Computer Hacker (India) Male (16) Hindi
K-Pop Artist (South Korea) Female (18) Korean
Outdoor Survivalist (Australia) Male (17) English
Engineering Genius (Germany) Female (17) German
Top Teen Chef (Italy) Male (16) Italian
Female Bull Fighter (Spain) Female (16) Spanish
World's Fastest Sprinter (Kenya) Male (17) Swahili
Mathematical prodigy (China) Female (16) Cantonese
Champion Soccer Player (Brazil) Male (16) Portugese
Student Astro-Physicist (Russia) Female (17) Russian
Inventor (America) Male (17) English

Extended Plot
Top students attending a global summit in Switzerland all use their stereotypes as weapons to thwart the plot of a sadistic scientist, mad-man who's funding got revoked, and he has decided to take his grievance out on.. well, everyone. In the first half, this comedy pokes fun at all the stereotypes of cultures and peoples throughout the world, but by the end, it becomes clear that by working together while celebrating our uniqueness could save the day.

Target Audience
13-34 and adults still living vicariously through their kids

Projected Budget
5MM Based on large cast, expansive locations, numerous extras

Original Screenplay
Written by Scott Michael Branan, © 2020 Beyond Entertainment, Inc., WGA-West Registration #2055647

Screenplay Awards
Not yet entered

Screenplay Fact
The author of this screenplay has hosted over 40 exchange students from 12 countries and many of the comedic and inspiring character-traits in this film are based on real-life interactions with visitors from around the globe.

