FILM SYNOPSIS

Kambili Maduka, is an irresponsible, spoiled, spendthrift 28-year-old woman who is turning 29 in a few days. The only thing on her mind is to get married before she turns 30. However, after getting suspended from work due to her incessant lateness, she goes on a date with her boyfriend and he breaks up with her, dashing her hopes of getting married before 30. She decides that what she needs to do is prove to her boyfriend that she can be everything he wants her to be which is; responsible, driven, focused and wife material.

DURATION: 110 MINUTES

Director's Note

There's something refreshing and uniquely cinematic about romantic comedies. There's a nostalgic feeling that allows us to believe in the magic of meet-cutes, happily ever afters, and all of the beautiful quirks that tend to pop up between the two. Kambili is a film that opens a magical box that very few people in our world have found in themselves. What makes me tick?. Its a Nigerian love story that happens in Lagos with universally relatable characters. The chemistry between Nancy Isime and Jide Kene is so explosive that you surrender to the sentiment of it all. On paper It's hard to imagine how this mismatched individuals find love but the journey it takes to get there is so thrilling and alive that you can't help but trust it.
