

Ravinder Dhaka is an Indian producer, Founder & CEO of Ravinder Dhaka Telefilms. He works with Indian and Irani filmmakers. Mr. Dhaka is a law graduate, was born and bred in New Delhi, currently lives in Mumbai. He is a trained martial artist, swimmer and vipassana meditator.

The sole aim of his production house is to support filmmakers in war-torn and economically backward countries. After working in Indian daily Tv soaps as an actor for 5 years he started his production house in 2016.

The production house has produced critically acclaimed short films called, Beggars, Switch Off, Dada ji ki Diary (Grandpa's Diary) and (Indo-Irani)The Other. The Other is the first silent Indo-Irani short film project in the history of cinema.

The films got awarded in so many film festivals and Mr. Dhaka was invited for the screenings and award ceremonies in Lebanon, Croatia, Cyprus, Iraq etc. Dada ji ki Diary (Grandpa's Diary) is streaming successfully on MX Player, one of biggest OTT platforms in India. Beggars and Switch Off are playing on ten online platforms.

