

Brazilian Wolverine
Wolverine Brasileiro
Lo Wolverine brasileño
Lo Wolverinebrasiliano

LIVE-ACTIONDOC
REALFILMDOC
PRISE DE VUES
RÉELLESDOC

Synopsis

"I am the best in the than I make" Marcos Greick. Glimpsed CULTZONE Marcos Greick Tupiniquim Wolverine. Released before the film X-Men Origins, in 2009.

About the Film

The Brazilian Wolverine is an instant star who was born during the release of the X-Men franchise film, a spin-off based solely on the character Logan, which became a success throughout that season on Youtube. He participated in television programs, was the cover of magazines, was interviewed by several newspapers in Brazil and also stamped his image on television, portals and the web. It's just for fun that it got serious!

The Director

Drovandi is an editor, writer, scripwriter, storyteller and journalist and now LawOfficer too. He has been reading comics since the 1990s, where he formed a vast vision of the comic book universe. In 2003 he founded PORTAL CULTZONE, writing news and commenting on the news of the comics in Brazil. He is writing a new fictional story of Getúlio Vargas, Glauber Rocha and Oswald de Andrade, the result of a workshop at Oswald de Andrade and is directing the documentary "Greve das FATECS". He also produced the animation "Motoqueiro Solitário" with great critical success.

Contact us if you need more details or participation in events:

filmes@cultzone.com.br <http://filmes.cultzone.com.br>

CULTZONE FILMES - 1110 Nuuanu Ave, Honolulu, HI 96817 Hawaii, US