(CORONA)VIRAL MONOLOGUES

A poignant and hilarious tour of the new pandemic normal, the (Corona) Viral Monologues brings together the stories of the Viral Monologues - an episodic play written by the actors at Chubbuck Studio - linking all of our worlds in the stages of grieving, regardless of if you are trying to stop of spread... or the steal.

SYNOPSIS

As part of Ivana Chubbuck Studio's first online course, a necessity brought on by the realities of a pandemic, students were asked to create. The first assignment was performing a monologue of their own creation that expresses an experience of the shutdown of life - due to the coronavirus.

The primary purpose was to be worked on in class, but master teacher, Ivana Chubbuck, encouraged students to film it - and do something with it.

The monologues created by the students are woven together to create a story that shows a portrait of culture in this moment. Filmed using the various methods of communications that are common during this epidemic; FaceTime, Zoom, Webcams - the film fully embraces these mediums in order to get across our message - a message of togetherness.
