SYNOPSIS

A lonely seamstress receives a strange request: to sew a cloak made only from the wings of moths. A work of delicate beauty is painstakingly crafted, and with it a fragile bond between two lost souls. But as soon as the work is finished, her client disappears. Searching for him, she discovers his secret. The cloak holds his final hope to escape a hostile world of lights. Is it possible to reach the freedom of moonlight? Or is her client a lunatic, crazy enough to jump to his death for a fantasy? The seamstress finds no peace. She answers the call of his dream and sews a new cloak - for herself.

DIRECTOR

Following her studies in applied cultural sciences, Alexandra Mauritz wrote children's series for German television, developed feature film scripts and toured as a musician. As head of a media institute, she organised further training for professional filmmakers. She has realised music-, documentary & experimental videos and supervises projects as a script advisor. "Noctuidae" is her debut as a fictional director and producer.
