

It is a story about Empathy...

Logline

Three foreign art students face the challenge to do their final collaborative thesis during level 4 lockdown in London.

Synopsis

Tuya, Dante and Alejandro are foreign college students who are in their final term in an applied theatre course in London. The three of them are working together on their thesis, trying to find its' main topic, when the government decides to put the country in extreme lockdown. The world has been put to a stop.

Tuya is a Mongolian student who has a dancing background. She lives with a very strict, annoying old landlady who restricts her freedom to do anything at home. Dante is a Colombian, financially broke student who is a painter. Because of the pandemic, he becomes homeless and stays at friends' places if he gets lucky. Alejandro is a Chilean student who is a writer. Even though he doesn't have any household issues or financial problems like the other two, his father passes away in Chile due to COVID-19.

Under their problems in their habitats, they all struggle to communicate and understand each other. And as a result, their final thesis is about to collapse. The only way to find their thesis topic and reignite their connection will be the recognition of their empathy - something that they have been longing to find.

Name Representation

Kintsugi means golden joinery. It is the Japanese art of repairing broken pottery pieces with melted gold. It is an art of making perfection out of imperfection. The name is given to a film to represent that empathy is the golden repair to our human connection. It is the medicine that the world needs the most.
