THE ICE CREAM STOP

LOGLINE: When the American Dream meets tragedy, the course of many lives will change forever.

SYNOPSIS: The Ice Cream Stop is a story about Dr. Michael Harris and his wife Tameka Harris. A beautiful life that turns tragic. Dr. Harris (Thai "THE THAIGA" Edwards) returns home from work after working a double shift at the hospital to find his pregnant wife Tameka (Nicola Lambo) waiting patiently in bed. They conversed for a short time highlighting the events of their day. Before going to bed Mike asks if she needed anything? Reluctantly, she tells him that she's craving ice cream. It is after 3 am, but the love he has for his wife and mother of their first child is far more important than his exhaustion so he goes to make a store run.

Somewhere Officer Davis played by (Dustin Harnish) and his partner Officer Reynolds (Paul Logan) was sitting parked on patrol while Davis was talking to his wife about their son who was in a near-fatal car accident earlier that day. She had been trying to get him to come to the hospital, but he refused to see his son in that condition and preferred work instead. Meanwhile, on Mike's return home something about Mike aroused both officers as he passed by and this is when things take a turn for the worse. The officers initiated a traffic stop and even after things check out, the officers still decided to escalate the call due to further suspicion. Soon Officers Morales (Chris Levine) and Officer Smith (Jed Dennis) arrive on the scene and this is where things take a drastic turn for the worse changing the lives of everyone involved. The ICE CREAM STOP is a beautifully told story that hits home and perfectly illustrates all of the issues that Americans have been addressing for years in our persistence to right racial inequality and social injustice in our society. These can also be seen as a result of historic oppression, inequality of inheritance, or perceived classism, racism and prejudice, especially against minority groups.
