

Hess Wesley

Biography

Hess Jerry Wesley is a Director, writer, actor and producer born in Port-au-Prince, Haiti.

The Port-au-Prince native moved to the United States, at a young age, with his family. His father, a pastor, believed that the new home would create a better opportunity for the family. Determined to build on the 'American Dream,' Wesley focused his efforts on athletics where he was a star football player. Although offered numerous scholarships to play football on a collegiate level, Hess chose to hone in on his true passion and stayed home, where he would attend Florida International University (FIU), gaining a degree in Performing Arts. After graduation, Wesley quickly took to the spotlight. The accomplished actor has secured leading roles in many independent films, T.V. Pilots and almost 30 national and regional ads.

Currently residing in Los Angeles, Hess has started his own production company, Hess Wess Productions. The company has already produced ads for many brands and has begun pivoting towards producing films. Hess will make his debut as a writer and co-director in the short film, "Adonai." A film which brings together the guidance from his late father and a visual representation for how he wants to inspire the world.