SYNOPSIS

Sacred Woman Documentary Series

Be inspired by the movement that has improved the lives of thousands of women across the World. Queen Afua serves as a rites of passage for women, aligning themselves to their divine purpose.

Sacred Woman Docuseries, brings you an engaging episodic documentary centered around health, wellness, and the ancient cultural legacy of black and indigenous communities. The Sacred Woman Docuseries, an 8-part investigative series, offers a profound meditation on notions of rituals, traditions and customs from cultivating a natural lifestyle of healing and the inescapable pull of one's ancestral roots. Based on the best selling book Sacred Woman: A guide to healing the feminine body, mind, and spirit by world renowned author Queen Afua, this biographical holistic experience follows her physical and spiritual journey that draws on complexities of womb wellness, the ascension of sisterhood and the gradual return of conscious awareness.

Queen Afua

For the past 50 years, Queen Afua has explored the world of healing feminine energy, urging the modern woman to cultivate their own feminine expression with ancient tools and ancestral power. Her organic approach has garnered her a rich and long standing reputation as an expert in the emerging field of Holistic Medicine. The genesis of her personal journey, in self healing with her first book 'Heal ThySelf', to now spreading healing across the world, has incited the making of this film.

Episode 0	Heal Thyself	A brief retrospective of Helen Robinson’s family upbringing which is strongly rooted in Pan Africanism and the Marcus Garvey movement. We will discuss how Helen Robinson struggled with asthma and chronic eczema at a very young age. Helen learns how to heal herself by using natural remedies she learned in the community. Helen Robinson surmounted the 80’s crack era and experienced some domestic adversities in her relationships. Single motherhood would lead her into an entrepreneurial mindset birthing herself into Queen Afua, Spiritual Guide, Nutritionist, and Host of Sister Circles. This experience would set the foundation of how she would later have the ability to relate to women all over the world. Featuring: Queen Esther, Bob Law, Anglea Rye, Chef Ahki, Kateria Knows, Dr. Flannery and Dr. Rhoda Moise.	NUT	SACRED WOMB
Episode 1	Know Thyself “Smai Tawi”	Focused on building a community in Brooklyn, Queen Afua & Baaba Heru come together in frinedship to teach wholistic wellness and ancient african spritual systems. The Sacred Woman rites of passge curriculum is develpoed inside a brand new center called, “Heal Thyself – Know Thyself”. The friendship between Baaba Heru and Queen Afua flourishes into a sacred union and they get married in the Virgin Islands. Sacred Woman is formed, embraced by the community and Random House offers to publish a Guide to Healing the Feminine Body, Mind, and Spirit book. This unifies the bond between them and “Smai Tawi” center is born, a sactuary where many of todays contemporary anfrican centered practitioners and scholars participated in 21 days of detoxes given by Queen Afua, as well as, Khametics 101 courses taught by Baaba Heru, where a community came to Know Thyself. Featuring: Chester Higgins, Baaba Heru, Anglea Rye, Chef Ahki, Kateria Knows, Dr. Flannery and Dr. Rhoda Moise.	TEHUTI	SACRED WORD
Episode 2	Ascension	We explore how an African Rites of Passage can be used as a healing modality to empower women physically, culturally and spititually. Dr. Flannery defines the difference between traditional initiation and rites of passage. Queen Afua takes women through a Sacred Woman graduation entitled Ascension, where women from all over the world gather to celebrate their initiation into the Sacred Woman Global Village. Featuring: Erykah Badu, Lauren London, Anglea Rye, Chef Ahki, Kateria Knows, Dr. Flannery and Dr. Rhoda Moise.	TA URT	SACRED FOOD
Episode 3	Womb Yoga Dance	Womb Yoga Dance is inspired by the postures carved on the temple walls in Ancient Kemet (Egypt). Queen Afua choreographs Dance of the Womb, a series of 39 movements and 69 poses. This innovative inspiration sparked a theatrical play and a book after Queen Afua studies at her local library and is inspired to craft every movement and womb yoga pose with a message, a meaning, and a purpose. Dr. Rhoda Moise shared in her interview that in ancient times the sound of music is used to awaken or conjure divinity. Queen shares with Womb Yoga Dance practitioners the meaning of the sistrum, a symbol held by women during seasonal rituals that are attributed to divinity like Het Heru, the personification of dance, joy, laughter & love. FKA Twigs invites Queen Afua to perform with her at Afro-Punk in Atlanta under the full moon in celebration of Dance of The Womb. Featured in the episode: Erykah Badu, Dr. Rhoda Moise, Sundari Moneek, Supa Nova Slom, FKA Twigs.	BES	SACRED MOVEMENT
