SYNOPSIS

The story is based on the common fathers and son conflict.

Robert and Kira are Russian immigrants living somewhere in the United States. Robert is a former racer who once followed his dream, but an accident off the racetrack ended up his career. He retired racing and opened his own car repair service.

His daughter Kira, who grew up without a mother, absorbed race aesthetics since she was a kid. When she grew up, she wanted to become a racer too. Robert is against daughter's hobby, because he knows what reckless driving leads to. They lived the last years in this eternal conflict, until a random incident occurred in their lives.

ABOUT FILM

First of all the film tells about human relationships.

We commonly don't listen to our most important people's opinion. We ignore those who care about us, want to help, warn us against something that is visible from the outside, but we can't understand it ourselves. The awareness often comes only after something irreparable happens, and we frantically try to fix what can't be fixed.

The script was written in the summer of 2021, but the project was launched only at the end of April 2022. Since the start of the project, the script has been rewritten several times. The final draft is the third in a row. The preproduction took a month, the shooting period — 2 days, postproduction — one more month.

The filming took place on the territory of Sochi Autodrom, in one of the garages, which Alfa Romeo F-1 team was based during the Russian F-1 Gran Prix. Some scenes were filmed on the territory of Sirius settlement and Motodrom Sochi.

F.A.Q

Q: How long did it take to make the film?

A: Approximately one year from the idea to the final cut. Shooting itself took 2 days.

Q: Where the idea of the film come from?

A: Once, director and cinematographer of the film were in a bar, talking about future projects and a decision came to shoot some small, interesting, weird story. The concept was born from the question "what if...". And then were characters and the setting appeared.

Q: Did the movie have any references?

A: Strangely enough, it hasn't. Perhaps, unconsciously, it is something from "The Sixth Sense" or "Shutter Island", but there were no specific references.

Q: Why are race commentary and TV news in English if heroes speaks Russian?

A: Because the main characters are Russian immigrants living in the USA.

F.A.Q

Q: Why are the main characters immigrants?

A: It was a way to add depth to the story. A difficult relationship with father may also be the fact that Kira had troubles adapting to life in different country. Bullying at school, the constant need to prove something. Try to imagine it yourself.

Q: What camera was used to shoot the film?

A: RED SCARLET MYSTERIUM-X

Q: What was the film's budget?

A: Almost none.

Q: Is there any studios associate in production of the film?

A: No. The Incident is a completely independent film.
