Tagline

Not all facts are said as they are, some facts remain a prisoner in the memory

Logline

The writer suffers from some of the events, which was the background of his novel

Synopsis

The story revolves around some real events that the writer is going through, to write his novel that takes great resonance and turns that novel into a theatrical show and a movie, but the writer still suffers from his imagination of the hidden truth of those events that he did not mention in the true form in the novel, and he wrote about it in another way...
