WHILE TWO WOMEN make plans to start a family, the sounds and mystery surrounding the historic house they live in cause disruptions they cannot ignore.

TAGLINE Sometimes there is more than history in an old house.

DIRECTOR'S STATEMENT This story comes from my love of turn of the century houses and all of the mystery surrounding them. The Old West End in Toledo, Ohio is one of the largest neighborhoods of various architectural styles from that era still in existence. It is also home to a community of people who host a fabulous festival every year with a parade and tours of the homes. Sounds that can't be explained, mysteries within the walls. I hope you enjoy Old West End!
