

Night Bird

ANNIE BENJAMIN

Annie is excited to announce that she will be releasing her next recording project with new, original material in fall of 2022.

The album is being produced by Brady Blade and engineered by Chris Bell. It was recorded in the fall 2021, during the height of the Covid pandemic. It includes sessions recorded in Wimberley, TX at Blue Rock Studio and at the legendary Arlyn Studios in Austin, TX. Musical artists featured include Mr. Blade on drums and percussion, Glenn Fukunaga on bass, Dave Scher on guitars and vocals, the Whitmore Sisters (Bonnie and Eleanor), Michael Dawson on keys and Joel Guzman on accordion.

ANNIE BENJAMIN

As a flautist and vocalist she has performed everything from country to classical, rock and roll to old timey gospel. As a performer, she feels at home on the theatrical stage, in concert halls and in piano bars and honky tonks.

She has self-produced four albums of original material and her music has been featured on NPR and in films and documentaries. As a human committed to social justice, she performs in schools, at protest rallies and demonstrations, and in front of civic and business leaders. Annie believes passionately that the arts have the power to heal hearts and minds while inspiring to bring about social change.

HIGHLIGHTS

In 2013, won a Dallas Column Award for Outstanding New Work by a local Playwright for her collaboration in writing, acting and singing in “The Echo Room Presents: Her Song”

In 2017, won the B.W. Stevenson Singer/ Songwriter Contest sponsored by one of Dallas’ premiere listening rooms, Poor David’s Pub

In 2020, her song lyrics and poetry were included in “ENOUGH! Say Their Names....Messages from Ground Zero to the World” a collaboration of visual artists and poets reflecting on the Black Lives Matters Movement.

Her music has been featured on NPR, in films and she has performed in front of social, political and environmental leaders as well as in classrooms and assisted living facilities.

