"Cabaret Voltaire co-founder and frontman Stephen Mallinder's second solo outing for Dais records titled tick tick tick further distills his signature fusion of minimal synth, oblique wordplay, and "wonky disco" into a riveting rhythm suite ripe for our age of escalation. Channeling the temporal malaise of lockdown through a lush palette of modular electronics and stereo strings, the songs embrace ambiguity and plasticity, loose systems of percolating circuitry and airless funk. Tulipomania are thrilled to have created two animated music videos – Hush and Shock to the Body – for Cabaret Voltaire co-founder/frontman Stephen Mallinder – also a member of Wrangler, Creep Show, Hey Rube, Kula, Cobby & Mallinder – an iconic electronic artist whom they have long admired.

Hush is featured on Mallinder's second solo album, tick tick tick on Dais records. The music video was featured on The Big Takeover as the second official music video released in support of tick tick tick.

The animated music video for Hush embraces the contrasts of the song's lyrical and aural aesthetics – combining simulations of tactile presentation with all the inherent digital contradictions. Lively hand-drawn splashes of acid hues highlight an eclectic array of stop-motion animated elements – salvaged vintage objects, toys and musical instruments – intercut with animated lip synch. The animation's multiple processes involved thousands of hand-crafted collages on individual sheets of black paper.

Described as 'artistic and inventive' and 'gorgeous,' music videos animated by Tulipomania have been featured in film festivals worldwide. The pair first found themselves collaborating on projects for experimental film and animation classes – Tulipomania evolved from those experiences.

Although Tulipomania animators/band members Tom Murray and Cheryl Gelover enjoy deciphering efforts to categorize their aesthetic, they decline to offer a specific label of their own.
