

We're the Kids in America

A teenage boy experiences a crisis of conscience when love turns sour and his dad forces him into an unwelcome decision.

STORYBOARDS: SCENE 3

This scene is where Christian is working in Quinnsworth supermarket and has a run in with the manager. He ends up being sent home but on his way out steals some Milky Ways as he is frustrated with the management style and working conditions.

