DIRECTORS STATEMENT

With the short "At Sea" we wanted to try something new and with new comes bigger production, more beautiful locations, and a star cast and crew. We didn't want to just tell another story of a marriage but one that has so many different ways of viewing it you can't confirm which side you're on. Although we took this film to the next level with more production value comes way more things that can become problems. We did our best to make something that we can show audiences and say "We are proud of this". This film is an entirely new aspect to something you've seen on the big screen before.

Zach Wilson, also known as Zach Moshe, has worked on movies since 2016. The majority of the time with short films. One of Zach's most notable short films was "Alone" (2020).
